LENNON PARK COMMUNITY GARDEN, Providence, RI

Project Description

GCD was hired by Partnership for Providence Parks to work with the Smith Hill Community Development Corporation and a group of Southeast Asian Youth to help them realize their vision for revitalization of their neighborhood park. Phase One was a community garden that was designed by the group in a series of collaborative meetings and community presentations. With the help of the neighborhood, we built raised beds for the garden in the late spring and a dragon entry pergola in the fall. Phase 2 will include a public orchard, parkour structures and more planting in the park.
